

Speaker Bio: Alyssa Miller, Co-Founder of Boots on the Ground

With an arsenal of degrees and training in diverse trauma-informed life interventions and inclusive practices across social health dimensions, Alyssa is a maverick on a mission. Alyssa is a co-founder of Boots on Ground. She has extensive professional experience and training in neurodivergence, psychological interventions, mental illness, crisis, suicide, and overdose interventions.

She consults and educates about Harm Reduction and Social Determinants of Health as well as the intersections of culture, mental illness, poverty, addictions, and neurodivergence. She has previously used her experiences in a Peer Support model to successfully support young adults in recovery from addictions, complex mental illness, and trauma. Alyssa is trained in Studio III Low Arousal Non-Violent Crisis Intervention, a certificated approach that is Human-Rights based, as well as Trauma-Informed Care (AHS), Brain Story (AFWI).

Learn more about Boots on the Ground.